This was a two-day, biennial sustainability conference by and for Oregon higher education institutions. The conference was a great opportunity for attendees to be exposed to issues of social justice, environmental education, food issues, carbon emissions reductions and many other themes under the broad umbrella of “sustainability”. Awardees attended presentations, workshops, panels, and networking events alongside OS staff and enjoyed locally sourced food.

Project Team: Seth Vidana, Rachael Morris, Victoria Monreal, Carol Berry